

Michael Faraday

Born: Newington Butts, Surrey (now London), England, September 22, 1791

Died: Hampton Court, Middlesex, England, August 25, 1867

Quotations by Faraday

“A center of excellence is, by definition, a place where second class people may perform first class work.”

“Nothing is too wonderful to be true if it be consistent with the laws of nature.”

“I do not feel that I possess anything extraordinary. If I do have the pleasure of a special talent it must certainly be perseverance.”

“The five essential entrepreneurial skills for success are concentration, discrimination, organization, innovation and communication.”